

March 4, 2022

Governor Gavin Newsom
1021 O Street, Suite 9000
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Governor Newsom,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence

March 4, 2022

Senate President Pro Tempore Toni G. Atkins
1021 O Street, Suite 8518
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Senator Atkins,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence

March 4, 2022

Assembly Member Anthony Rendon
1021 O Street, Suite 8330
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Speaker Rendon,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence

March 4, 2022

CA Senate Majority Leader Robert Hertzberg
1021 O Street, Suite 8610
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Senator Hertzberg,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence

RAISE
THE BASE

March 4, 2022

CA Senate Minority Leader Scott Wilk
1021 O Street, Suite 7640
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Senator Wilk,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

RAISE
THE BASE

March 4, 2022

Assembly Member Laurie Davies
1021 O Street, Suite 4720
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Assembly Member Davies,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence

RAISE
THE BASE

March 4, 2022

CA Senate Patricia Bates
1021 O Street, Room 7130
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Senator Bates,

I write to you with an urgent request on behalf of the approximately 44,000 students of the Capistrano Unified School District. I strongly request you use some of the state's projected budget surplus to support public education. By allocating about $9 Billion of the state's budget surplus to raising the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) base grant for all students, you will raise California's per student expenditure to $12,542.

I applaud the unprecedented investment of funds for public education, yet the new funds do not meet the ongoing needs of all students. First, ongoing funds, not one-time dollars are necessary in order to provide budget stability and operational support for a successful future in education. Second, nearly all the ongoing funding beyond the 5.33% COLA, is restricted and specifically directed dollars. Third, new funding distribution is uneven due to criteria or formulas intended to achieve specific policy goals. These goals are significant but have entirely overlooked the looming fiscal crisis brought about by the lack of attention to LCFF base funding.

The current base-level funding used to keep the lights on, staff compensated, and the school doors open has not been given adequate attention in the years since the great recession.

Despite considerable targeted-fund investments in elementary and secondary education, many school districts lack the necessary funding to maintain budget stability and the essential operational support for our public schools (according to the Fiscal Crisis Management Assistance Team FCMAT). Those conditions threaten the fiscal solvency of districts over time. Increased LCFF base grant funding will help maintain budget stability.

As the world's 5th largest economy and the nation's 10th per capita taxing state, California must do better in providing a well-funded, adequate and appropriate public school education for every child.

The time is now! We must Raise the Base!

Sincerely,

City of Residence